About Abiomed, Inc.

Abiomed, Inc., headquartered in Danvers, MA, is a leading provider of medical devices designed for use in providing circulatory support. The Company's products are primarily used in either the cardiac catheterization lab (cath lab) by interventional cardiologists or in the heart surgery suite by cardiovascular surgeons. Patients who receive an Abiomed device are in need of prophylactic hemodynamic support during high-risk angioplasty procedures or are experiencing pre-shock, shock, or profound cardiogenic shock.
