

Karl Rove on the GOP's South Carolina Primary and the Presidential Race

FEBRUARY 23, 2024 | 10:00AM ET

Stephens is hosting a private conference call for clients with Karl Rove, a renowned political analyst and former Senior Advisor to President George W. Bush, on the GOP's South Carolina primary, Biden's presidential campaign, and implications for U.S. House and Senate races.

About the Speaker

Karl Rove served as Senior Advisor to President George W. Bush from 2000–2007 and Deputy Chief of Staff from 2004–2007. At the White House, he oversaw the Offices of Strategic Initiatives, Political Affairs, Public Liaison, and Intergovernmental Affairs and was Deputy Chief of Staff for Policy, coordinating the White House policy-making process.

Before Mr. Rove became known as “The Architect” of President Bush's 2000 and 2004 campaigns, he was president of Karl Rove + Company, an Austin-based public affairs firm that worked for more than 75 Republican candidates for senator, governor and congressman, as well non-partisan causes and non-profit groups.

Today, Mr. Rove writes a weekly op-ed for the Wall Street Journal and is a Fox News contributor. He is the author of two books – a critically acclaimed volume on the 1896 presidential election entitled The Triumph of William McKinley and the 2010 New York Times Bestseller Courage and Consequence. He is now working on a book on presidential decision-making. He is the founder of the American Crossroads/Senate Leadership Fund super-PAC.
